

The International Marketplace

This one-day forum, cosponsored with the Texas Council on Economic Education, addresses international issues and classroom strategies.

Events around the world this past year remind us of the importance of our connections in the global marketplace. Recent events—car manufacturers looking to Japan for parts, financial managers watching Europe and the continuing debt crisis, energy companies monitoring activity in the Middle East—all focused our attention on the importance of international trade in our daily lives.

To thrive in a global society, students require an understanding of actions and reactions around the world. This forum for high school faculty will provide educators with timely information on important global events. Lessons and strategies for incorporating this information into classroom activities will also be provided.

Location and Date:

Houston, July 24

Houston Branch
1801 Allen Parkway, Houston, TX 77019

Register by July 17

Time:

8:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

Fee:

$15, includes continental breakfast, lunch and conference materials

Credit:

Six hours of professional development credit and talented and gifted certification

Praise from Past Participants

“Vivacious speakers on current topics”

“Well-organized/timely and current topics. Thank you so much!”

“It was outstanding—I hope to attend more Fed events in the future.”