Making $ense of Personal Finance

The Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas and the Texas Council on Economic Education will host a series of one-day workshops on personal finance education in Dallas in June and at the Bank's three branches during July and August. The workshops will address several of the areas of instruction in personal finance recently mandated by the Texas Legislature. Breakout sessions will address ways to engage students in meaningful activities.

Specific topics include:

- Rights and responsibilities of renting or buying a home
- Types of bank accounts and their benefits
- Understanding the language of investing
- Charitable giving
- Managing money and building wealth
- Starting a small business

Presentations by:

- Consumer Credit Counseling Service of Greater Dallas
- Texas Bankers Association
- Texas State Securities Board
- United Way
- Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas
- Texas Council on Economic Education

The conference is open to all high school teachers interested in incorporating personal finance education into their instruction. Attendees will receive materials for classroom use.

Join us for this one-day event at a location convenient for you. The cost of this workshop is $15. Space is limited, so early registration is advised.
