- Community conditions and operating environment:
 - In the past 6 months, what changes have you observed in your communities, including community members, clients, students, or workers that your organization serves? Your response could include information about the funding environment, service demand, and hiring and retaining staff, among other topics.
 - What changes, if any, have occurred in your organization's operating environment in recent months? How, if at all, is your organization responding or planning to respond to these changes (in your operating environment or based on changing community needs)?
- Financial well-being of LMI households: What changes have you observed in recent months in people's economic and financial experiences? Your response could include information on changes in employment opportunities, wage growth, spending patterns, availability of credit, household debt, or housing costs and availability, among other topics. If there are any challenges, what approaches might address them?
